Q: What are the tax consequences to Record DataMEDS Common Holders of accepting the Meme Coins?

A: The distribution of Meme Coins is an in-kind distribution that may be a dividend (to the extent of DataMED's current and accumulated earnings and profits ("E&P")). Datavault and/or DataMEDS may elect to treat the entire amount as a dividend or may elect to report it in another manner as it decides is appropriate in consultation with their respective tax preparers. In executing and delivering to Datavault the Opt-In Agreement, you agree (and will be required absent disclosure to the IRS and other tax authorities) to report such amounts in the same manner.

Datavault intends to notify such record holders of the manner in which it will report such amounts to the IRS by push notifications to digital wallets.

Q: I share an address with another DataMEDS stockholder, and we received only one paper copy of the Distribution Materials. How may I obtain an additional copy of the Distribution Materials?

A: Datavault has adopted a procedure called "householding". Under this procedure, Datavault delivers a single copy of the letter from Datavault to multiple stockholders and other equityholders who share the same address, unless it has received contrary instructions from one or more of such stockholders or other equityholders. This procedure reduces our printing costs, mailing costs and fees. Stockholders and other equityholders who participate in householding will continue to be able to access and receive separate letter from Datavault. Upon written or oral request, Datavault (through the Information Agent) will deliver promptly a separate copy of the letter from Datavault to any stockholder or other equityholder at a shared address to which Datavault delivered a single copy of any of these materials.
